the community in which we live. It is not just a matter of being "in" the community, but of being "of" it. The community is not just a place, but a way of life. It is a way of life that is based on the values of respect, tolerance, and understanding. It is a way of life that is based on the belief that we are all part of the same human family. It is a way of life that is based on the belief that we can all make a difference in the world. It is a way of life that is based on the belief that we can all live in peace and harmony. 'Jueteng' alive and well in Bicol, says ex-operator

By Christian V. Esguerra

HAS 'JUETENG' REALLY been eradicated or is it still being played under an illegitimate legal cover?

Castroville former jueteng operator Wilfredo "Boy" Mayor returned last week to his old turf in the Bicol region and found that the illegal numbers game still enjoyed wide popularity there—just like in the old days.

"It was never really stopped," Mayor told the INQUIRER in an interview yesterday.

In Albay, he said, a "modified version" of jueteng was being played with the two-number choices (1-23) to make it similar to the legal EZ2 game of the Philippine Charity Sweepstakes Office.

Hidden

The strategy keeps enthusiasts at bay because bet collectors go around with packs of EZ2 tickets, under which the bets for jueteng are hidden, Mayor said.

"When you check, you'll find out that the official results for the EZ2 (draw are) very much different," he said. "This shows that EZ2 is just being used as a front."

Mayor, who admitted being a jueteng lord in Bicol from 1995 to 2001, said he learned about the new tactic after asking several people to place bets. He said he also met with some of his former bet collectors who told him the big-time jueteng lords were still running the show through fronts.

Waking

"They're just waking up for the jueteng scandal to completely shake out and they'll be back," Mayor said. "They know you will shut it's not wise to invest primarily to protection money these days when the spotlight is on jueteng."

To prove that jueteng was alive and well in Bicol, Mayor rattled off to the bureau the winning numbers in different areas of the region on Sept. 18, 19 and 20. He said jueteng was so popular that draws were held twice daily—at 11 a.m., 4 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Combinations

In the third district of Albay, he said the winning combinations during the three-day period were 13-25, 24-24 and 6-15.

In the first district of Sorsogon, the winning numbers in Barangay Pilar on Sept. 20 were 21-27, 31-19 and 27-17, he said.

The same day, he said, draws in the second district were held in a bar on the boundary of Oribi and Uban towns. The results were 13-31, 27-1 and 18-28.

Jueteng was also being played in San Pablo, Laguna, he said, where the draws on Sept. 17 were held in Barangay San Ignacio with the winning combinations being 15-12, 28-29 and 19-31.

In Laguna proper which covers Sta. Rosa and Alibon towns, Mayor said draws occurred in a house in Barangay

San Vicente, Alibon. He said the gambling operators were awaiting a meeting on Oct. 7 to discuss the Small Times Lottery (STL), a legalized form of jueteng being pushed by the government's anti-

1. The first step is to identify the main components of the system. This includes the hardware (CPU, memory, storage) and software (operating system, applications).

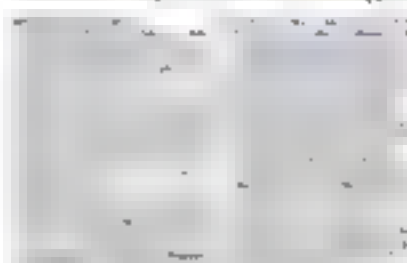

2. Next, we need to understand the flow of data and control within the system. This involves analyzing the system architecture and the interactions between different components.

3. Once the components and flow are understood, we can begin to optimize the system. This may involve adjusting hardware settings, updating software, or reconfiguring the system architecture.

4. Finally, we need to monitor the system's performance over time. This allows us to identify any issues or bottlenecks and make further optimizations as needed.

People no longer afraid of martial law

By Ed Lee

It is a common belief that martial law is a time when the government is at its most powerful. It is a time when the government can do whatever it wants without any checks or balances. But in the Philippines, martial law has been a recurring theme for decades. It has been used to suppress dissent, to silence critics, and to maintain the status quo. But now, it seems that the people are no longer afraid of martial law. They are no longer intimidated by the threat of military rule. They are no longer silent in the face of oppression. They are speaking out, they are protesting, and they are demanding change. This is a sign of a more mature and democratic society. It is a sign that the people are no longer willing to accept the rule of a few over the many. It is a sign that the people are ready to take control of their own destiny.

Trichas, Part 2

Trichas
 THE FILM

Trichas is a film that explores the lives of a group of people in a remote, mountainous region of the Philippines. The film is a sequel to the first Trichas film, which was released in 1993. The film is a powerful and moving story that deals with themes of love, loss, and the struggle for survival. The film is a testament to the resilience of the human spirit and the power of love to overcome all obstacles. The film is a must-see for anyone who is interested in the lives of the people of the Philippines.

Dangerous ground

The Philippines is a country that is rich in natural resources and cultural heritage. It is a country that has the potential to become a major economic power in the Asia-Pacific region. But the Philippines is also a country that is plagued by corruption, poverty, and social inequality. The Philippines is a country that is in a dangerous ground. The Philippines is a country that is at a crossroads. The Philippines is a country that is facing a choice between a path of progress and a path of stagnation. The Philippines is a country that is in need of a new direction. The Philippines is a country that is in need of a new leader. The Philippines is a country that is in need of a new future.

Executive privilege for Gonzales?

ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANK ROYCE, JR., has been asked to advise the president on the propriety of asserting executive privilege to prevent the release of documents relating to the investigation of the Iran-Contra affair. The attorney general's response is expected to be a critical test of the limits of executive privilege. The president's assertion of executive privilege in the Iran-Contra case would be a significant departure from the traditional view that executive privilege is limited to communications between the president and his closest advisers. The attorney general's response will be a critical test of the limits of executive privilege.

Solon says he got call from GMA on impeachment

By Mike Del
of the Associated Press

MANILA (AP) — Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile, a vocal critic of President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo, said Monday he received a call from GMA asking him to appear on the network's "Magandang Umaga" program.

Enrile, who is a member of the Senate Committee on Government Administration, said he was surprised by the call because he has been critical of the network's coverage of the administration.

"I was very surprised because I have been very critical of GMA's coverage of the administration," Enrile said. "But I was happy to hear from them because it shows they are still interested in my views."

Enrile said he will appear on the program on Tuesday, September 25, at 7:30 a.m. He will discuss the impeachment process and the role of the Senate.

The call came at a time when Enrile is pushing for the impeachment of President Arroyo. He has introduced several bills to impeach the president and has been vocal in his criticism of her administration.

GMA, on the other hand, has been accused of bias in its coverage of the administration. It has been criticized for giving more airtime to pro-administration voices and for being less critical of the president's actions.

Enrile's appearance on the program is expected to be a significant event, as it will allow him to voice his concerns directly to the public and to the network's audience.

Gov't expected to trim '05 deficit to P161B

Overdue project gets the attention it needs

By David P. Sison

MANILA (PDI) — The government is expected to trim its 2005 deficit to P161 billion, according to a report by the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) released last week. The report, which is the first of its kind, shows that the government's fiscal position has improved significantly since 2003, thanks to a combination of factors, including a strong economic recovery and a more disciplined budget.
